ABOUT THE PROGRAM & PRESENTER

Richard L. Warren, CPCC, LCSW-C

How many courses, workshops and article on “ethics have you participated in?” Many – I’m sure. This workshop seeks to do something unique – create an ethics that is true to you. The first part of this workshop will review basic ethical principles, the top 10 ethical violations that licensing Boards hear, with a Q/A to issues you face in your practice. This will lead to shame, what it is, how it shows up during the therapy hour, and means to Rising Strong™. Participants will be guided to examine shame issues using the curriculum of Rising Strong™ based on the research of Brené Brown, Ph.D., LMSW. We will conclude this interactive workshop– and designed is to be ethically fun – creating your own ethical manifesto to guide you in your practice.
